

BENEFIT FOR A-A-RON

Aaron Joslin, 37, has been a dispatcher at the MSP airport for the last five years. He was diagnosed with stage 4 soft tissue cancer in February 2018. He has been receiving a chemotherapy treatment aptly named “the sledgehammer” for three one-month cycles in March, April, and May. The HOPE in treatment is to shrink his multiple, very painful tumors enough to go camping this summer. Aaron enjoys spending time with his family, outdoor adventures, quirky roadside attractions, animation, collecting, and obscure random facts. Aaron’s prognosis is completely unknown, as these tumors are exponentially rare and there is no official diagnosis. He will be receiving treatments indefinitely.
